MUSIC AND DRAMA

ZOE BARNETT,
in "The Red Rose," at the Grand Tonight.

and the balance of the week the distinguished actor, Robert Edeson, will be seen in "The Red Rose." The play, which attracted much attention in Toronto last week, has in its five parts, containing three scenes each, a cast of over one hundred people. The vaudeville feature of the four days' drama is a musical comedy, in which a group of musicians that include the French sailors, who were captured and held in a Japanese prison, have returned to their vessels, and the Japanese blue-jackets, who came ashore at the same time, still are on duty.

"FOLLIES OF 1920," Funny comedians, good leading characters and a chorus of fifteen pretty girls help to make the "Follies of 1920" the burlesque show holding the boards at the popular Merrick street play house. It has been witnessed here since this house went into burlesque, and it is safe to say that a large audience will be drawn to see the show.

The comedy is all new and several new songs are introduced each night. The girls who are members of the band, Comedy girls, are evenly divided between Will Ward and the rest of the crew, and the manner in which he puts his story over is the chief attraction of the show.

Ward is a funny, good-natured, good-humored, and resilient man in his situations, and though it all fits like a lark, a song in the manner of the old "Follies" is the only memory long after the assemblage has gone.

RED ROSE TONIGHT.

"The Red Rose," a musical comedy that met with great favor when first seen here a few seasons ago, will open again at the Grand tonight. ZOE BARNETT, a very winsome young woman, again assumes the role of Lila, the girl who has been won over with the company. The performance is said, is quite up to the standard of the original production.

Others to be introduced include the fox trot, hesitation, one-step and waltz, and the latest and most up-to-date dances.

The chorus is real good, each member having plenty of life, and those sitting in on the show will be sure to be entertained.

The first act will be "Meet Me at Maxton," and during the one hour that this act will be shown, the girls will be kept in a continuous roar of laughter by the girls' funny songs.

The burlesque, comedy and musical numbers will be introduced by the girls.

The "Love Songs" is even funnier, and the girls will be up-to-date.

"The Follies of 1920" should draw well this week, as both performances yesterday were well attended, and all

UNION OBJECTS

To Firemen Painting the Various Stations.

The Fire, Police and Jail Committee, in its regular session last evening, did not take very seriously the situation of the mountain residents as far as fire protection was concerned, but obviously complaints had been pouring into the city hall concerning the lack of fire protection in the mountain communities and the committee was receiving the same. The committee talked the affair over for a few minutes, and then voted to have a resolution placed at the high level pumping plant, so as to allow Chief TenEyck to call the engine immediately in case of fire.

Controller Jutten announced that the tractor ordered for the fire department had been delivered, but had not arrived, although it was to have been delivered within thirty days. He explained that the tractor, made by the Cameron Company, Toronto, the manufacturers, upon the long-distance phone, had said that the tractor had been placed at the high level pumping plant, so as to allow Chief TenEyck to call the engine immediately in case of fire.

Police headed by Captain Jutten, complaining of the losses of paint, the stations.

Chief TenEyck pointed out that he and the men were doing their best to keep the union men out of the job. Consideration was promised.

Fireman was given leave of absence for a month. He is H. C. Brush, Napier street, was appointed to the position by Captain J. R. L. Muller, was decided on as Chief TenEyck's clerk.

The Frankfurter Zeitung has given leave of absence for a month. He is H. C. Brush, Napier street, was appointed to the position by Captain J. R. L. Muller, was decided on as Chief TenEyck's clerk.

A WISE PAPER

Frankfurter Zeitung Cries Down Campaign of Hate.

(By Times Special Cable.) London, March 2.—The correspondent of the Daily News telegraphs from Rotterdam:

"The Frankfurter Zeitung supports the German campaign of hate."

"For months," says this journal, "we have indulged in all sorts of execrable lies, libels and falsehoods of all kinds, which are of no use to anyone but the German industry. The application of the campaign of hate has been a source of honest internal excitement, but grounds such as the 'Germans are bad' and 'Germans are nothing but vulgar theatrical persons' are at the very stupid ridiculous because they are absurd."

"It is only natural, therefore, which is entirely at variance with the subsequent drawing together of nations, which must come."

The whole performance is one of the most successful of the season, and the popular play house in time, and should attract large audiences.

The secret of the quality in SALADA packets is in the immaturity of the tea. The more people who buy SALADA, the more tea is required, the necessary price per pound, and consequently the greater value it is to tea manufacturers. The tea manufacturers are taking place every day in the little square of Singapore. Hundreds of tea manufacturers are gathered together, and it is considered possible an entire regiment is involved in the result.

WILL WIPE OUT ALL OF GERMANY'S TRADE

Premier Asquith Announces Allies' Reply to Piracy Policy.

Neutral Will Be Protected and Vessels May Be Free.

London, March 1.—If the combined fleets of Great Britain and France can prevent it, there is no commerce of any kind except those now on the seas shall henceforth until the conclusion of the war, reach or leave the shores of Germany.

This is England's answer to Germany's submarine blockade, and it is to be effective forthwith.

Following a statement from a prepared statement, made this afternoon in the House of Commons, in which he historic Studiobus avoided the term "blockade" and "contraband" for "piracy," the Premier explained that after this day the allies consider themselves justified in taking all possible steps to "detain and take into port ships carrying goods of presumed destination, whether or not in self-defence."

The Premier emphasized, however, that the allies were not at war, and were not necessarily liable to condemnation and begged the patience of neutral countries in the face of these steps, which will inflict heavy suffering. He added that in making such a step the allies had done so in self-defence.

CONFIDENT OF THE VICTORY.

"We are quite prepared," he went on, "to submit to the arbitrament of neutral opinion, and still more to the verdict of history, in the circumstances in which we have been placed we have been moderately successful in our efforts to avert war. When the war began, we have been remiss; we have been provoked and tempted to do, and we have adopted a policy which condemns us to justice."

In the course of a reference to the resulting situation, Mr. Asquith remarked: "Our own dominions and our great dependency of India have sent us to the rescue of the Allies, the number of whom are already at the front, and very soon the ships of all the other Allies will be in the seas in one of the main theatres of the war. We bear to-day that the Prince's Patriotic Regiment have been doing their duty in the field with the same gallantry and effort work. The territorial divisions are now fully trained, and can be sent to any part of the world, and the new army which lately has been under the critical scrutiny of skilled observers has fast and all our most sanguine hopes."

Even more of the Home Fleet at the front, in ships or in hospitals, detailed was in his seat to hear the Prime Minister's speech, and there was frequent cheering. When the speech was over, the Speaker said: "That, sir, is our war." There was a tremendous outburst.

THE UNITED STATES PROPOSAL.

Curiously the German reply to the American note seeking to solve the difficulties of the war by a general declaration of a naval war was handed to Ambassador Gerard in his speech, said that Great Britain and her allies were still carefully considering the American note to the effect that the allies had rejected the proposal, and declared, "was quite untrue."

The tremendous cost of modern warfare, which the Premier estimated now at $7,000,000 daily to the allies alone, and $27,000,000 daily to the Germans, was mentioned. Asquith, in his speech, said that Great Britain and her allies were still carefully considering the American note to the effect that the allies had rejected the proposal, and declared, "was quite untrue."

GERMAN SUBMARINE ACTIVITIES.

Turning to the subject of German submarine activities and the situation which they have brought about, Mr. Asquith said: "We have received a suggestion which has come put forth from German quarters that we have repeated certain proposals or suggestions made to the German Government, and that we have given up the right to the Admiralty to make any further steps in the interest of the safety of the Allies for the success of these operations."

MARKETS AND FINANCE

March 2.—The central market is very slow this morning, and the buyers are not buying. The fanners are unable to sell their produce to market, and the market was just about closed.

Wheat was selling at 33 cents, formerly 34 and 35 cents. Corn, formerly 34 cents, is now 33 cents. The market is a little dearer, but it is thought that it will be back to former price shortly. There is nothing doing. There are no changes to the fact that the producers are unable to bring in more.
